

Withdrawal policy

Tradeview Ltd. is licensed to carry on securities investment business and is regulated by the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority (CIMA) as a full securities broker-dealer. Tradeview conducts business pursuant to the Cayman Islands Securities Investment Business Law (SIBL) and its activities fall under the direct supervision of the Investments and Securities Division of CIMA.

Deposit and withdrawal requirements

All deposits and withdrawals on trading accounts held with the company must abide by the following requirements:

- Based on the Tradeview's AML & CTF policies, the Company does not accept funds from third parties or remit funds to third parties.
- Funds sent to the Company must originate from a financial institution (bank or regulated brokerage firm), Credit/Debit card or Alternative Payment Method (Skrill, Neteller, Uphold or others) from an account in the same name as the trading account.
- All funds withdrawn from a trading account must go to a bank account, Credit/Debit card or Alternative Payment Method (Skrill, Neteller, Uphold or others) under the same name as the trading account.
- Profits may be withdrawn to an alternative source account under the same name as the trading account name with the Company.
- All withdrawal requests are processed on a First-in-First-Out (FIFO) basis according to the funding source of origination. For example, a deposit is made via Debit/Credit Card; then a subsequent withdrawal request is received. The amount of funds sent back to the relevant Debit/Credit Card, when a withdrawal request is received, may not exceed the original amount deposited from the same source. Profits made in excess of the deposited amount will be transferred to a nominated bank account; which must be held in the same name as your trading account.
- All withdrawals must be made in the currency in which the account is held or the conversion costs are the responsibility of the client and Tradeview will not reimburse clients conversion rates.
